Canyon Citizens Show Interest In Re-union

Canyon citizens have shown a great deal of interest in the Confederate Veterans' Reunion in Amarillo. Parades, luncheons, dinners, speeches, and concerts by the United States Marine Corps band have been outstanding entertainment features of the four-day fete which opened Tuesday.

Buffaloes Open Training Camp September 10

Eleven Lettermen Will Report for Practice; 22 New Members Are Handpicked

Training camp for the Buffalo squad will open September 10, announced Coach Al Baggett Tuesday. Members will begin arriving soon and will go into intensive practice early next week.

A training table will be conducted at the camp and will continue throughout the season.

Among the varsity candidates who will report are 11 lettermen, one man for each position. These eleven lettermen will form the nucleus around which Baggett and Cox will build the '35 machine. These veterans are Stina Cain, end; Clinton Mee, tackle; R. D. Wheelock, tackle; John Lee, end; Leo Jackson, center; John Rankin, captain and guard; Jack Davis, end; R. M. Thompson, half; Ezell Champion, half; Vernon Johnson, fullback; and Frank Van Noy, quarterback. Butch Clark and George Caviness of last year's squad also will return.

Added to this group of 13 will be 20 hand picked freshmen of last year and two junior college transfers, Doyle Johnson, 180-pound guard of Lamar College of Beaumont, and Toby Waggoner, lanky end and former star of Amarillo College.

The Buffalo backfield is expected to average between 178 and 180 pounds this fall, while the line is expected to hit around the 185-pound mark per man. Baggett believes his system of play is well grounded at West Texas after two years working on fundamentals. He plans a wide-open style of offense featuring lateral and forward passes along with deceptive ground plays.

The Buffalo Courts, new home for athletes on the campus, will be completed about September 15 and will house 54 students.

Number of Cars Into Palo Duro Low Past Week

Two hundred ninety-two cars drove into the Palo Duro State Park during the week from August 26 to September 1, less than half the number which visited the park the previous week.

The decrease is largely attributed to the heavy rains the latter part of the week causing damage to the road along the floor of the canyon. Repair work was started on the road immediately the water had receded.

Amarillo led the list of visitors with 67 cars; Dallas, 14; Canyon, 12; Lubbock, 10; Pampa, 10; Plainview, 9; Tulsa, 6; Borger, 6; Hereford, 5; White Deer, 6; Panhandle, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Clarendon, Waco, 3; Houston, Sudan, Wichita Falls, Perryton, Spring Lake, Wheeler, 2. Fifty-eight Texas towns were represented by one car each.

Leading the out-of-state parade was Oklahoma with 19 cars; Illinois, 3; Kansas, 6; Iowa, 3; Louisiana, 2; Missouri, 2; Tennessee, 1; New Mexico, 4; Arkansas, 2; Arizona, Colorado, Nebraska, Ohio, and Kentucky, 1 each.

In September we turn our faces toward the citizens of tomorrow, the children who will be starting to school in a few days, who will be mixing chewing gum and history, football and English with a freedom they may not feel again.

Randall County with its excellent school system, the Canyon public schools, and the College enables the county to look upon the opening of school as a more momentous occasion than in most counties in Texas. Pausing to consider that here a student may learn his letters or get a master's degree is impressive.

The Canyon schools will begin classes Sept. 9 under the management of Superintendent Irbey Carruth, the rural schools, directed by County Superintendent Burney Slack, opened September 2nd. The College and Training School will begin registration on Sept. 17.

Many families have already moved here to send their children to grade school; college students will begin arriving in a few days. We have a responsibility and a trust in seeing that we support and aid one of the best school systems in the state.

Those who have available sites for Canyon's proposed post office building are urged to get in their bids now—and at reasonable prices. It is assured that no one in Canyon is going to put up any money with which to buy sites and it is up to the citizens to make a reasonable price on their properties.

The government will take the best offer, regardless of whether or not it aids business enterprise in the town. The government is being generous in other ways, and it is up to Canyon's property owners to make a fair and square deal on property values.

Civic minded citizens will not take advantage of an occasion such as this to profit personally at the expense of the city.

AAA AMENDMENTS

A special release from Washington, D. C., outlines the amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act which have met the approval of both houses of Congress and have the signature of President Roosevelt.

The amendments have two major purposes. One is to give the Secretary of Agriculture added powers in carrying out the farm program and the other is to erect bulwarks around the program against the time when provisions of the Act will have to meet the crucial test in the Supreme Court.

"The new amendments," Secretary Wallace commented, "will permit increased 'adjustment' of production by permitting benefit payments for increased production." Wallace was careful to point out that there is little likelihood of this provision being put to use except in cases of grave emergency.

On the most controversial point, the section barring suits by processors to recover processing taxes in event the levies are held unconstitutional, a compromise was reached. Processors can sue for recovery, but only after they have submitted their claims to the commissioner of internal revenue. However, the processors must show they have not passed the taxes along.

The amendments also permit the Secretary of Agriculture to draft marketing agreements with the consent of the majority of processors for the following: milk, fruits, tobacco, vegetables, soy beans, pecans, walnuts and naval stores.

The recent act of Congress also extends the Bankhead cotton control and Kerr-Smith tobacco control act and authorizes a similar program for potatoes. It also permits start of the "ever normal" granary plan under which the Government could make loans to producers to induce them to hold surplus crops on farms.

Other provisions in the amendments authorize use of 30 percent of customs receipts to finance export of crop surpluses, except cotton, under the export debenture plan; and authorize use of part of the $4,000,000,000 works fund to buy up sub-marginal farm land.

World Alarmed as War Clouds Thicken

Fearful that another world war was in the making, the world turned an alarmed gaze on the Mediterranean and East Africa, shown in map above, after Great Britain, fearful lest Italian war activity block the route to her far eastern colonies or the water supply to the Anglo-Egyptian Nile, dispatched battleships and planes to the island of Malta. Answering efforts of other powers to halt warfare, Mussolini, top right, declared he would not be stopped. A typical Italian soldier, one of thousands in Eritrea who have for months been awaiting the command to attack, is pictured at left below. At right is one of the savage tribesmen who make up the greater part of the army of Emperor Haile Selassie, above, left.

For the second time in 18 months a tragedy in its royal family has left Belgium stunned and grief-stricken. The beautiful, beloved Queen Astrid was killed when an auto driven by her husband King Leopold III, skidded and lurched off the road near famed Lake Lucerne, in Switzerland. Hints on Planning
Bedroom Furniture

By Mrs. J. J. Wright

"Our bedrooms should be arranged to promote rest," said Mrs. Lloyd Skelly in a lecture on "Attractive Touches in the Bedroom," at the Farmers' Short Course at College Station.

In one color scheme as worked out by Mrs. Skelly the furniture was black with white linens, a bit of silver used in a lovely old silver butter dish, used as a powder box, a pot plant added color, together with candle sticks in silver and bronze holders.

While giving many other pleasing effects in color schemes and arrangements, Mrs. Skelly gave hints in utilizing what we have on hand. She said, "Why not make pretty green vases from ginger ale bottles by cutting off the tops?" The old silver butter dish used as a powder box had belonged to her great-grandmother. She told of an ugly old iron lamp being made into a beautiful table lamp by being painted bronze with bits of color added, and an old auto clock was converted into an interesting desk clock by putting it into a cedar frame.

The most pleasing color schemes are of light colors, with small bits of harmonizing brighter colors to add cheerfulness and interest to our bedrooms.

MRS. GEORGE FRANK IS CLUB HOSTESS

The West Side Club met at the home of Mrs. George Frank Friday afternoon, Aug. 30. Late summer flowers decorated the rooms. Miss Allie Dozier met with the club and judged the cakes, awarding high score to Mrs. W. C. Roberts.

Mrs. J. J. Wright gave an interesting report on her trip to the short course at College Station.

The afternoon was spent in a round table discussion of what had been accomplished by members during the past year. Pictures were made for the club book, and a new member, Mrs. Baber, was initiated.

Roll call was answered by members giving lists of items they are planning to enter in the Tri-State fair.

Iced orangeade and fruit dessert were served to two visitors, Mrs. H. B. Hunter and Mrs. Joe Baker, and to the following members: Mrs. Wm. Ash, Mrs. J. J. Wright, Mrs. J. A. Smith, Mrs. Baber, Mrs. J. L. Buchanan, Mrs. Lavert Avent, Mrs. J. E. Hunter, Mrs. S. P. Dove, Mrs. T. A. Dowlen, Mrs. W. C. Roberts, Mrs. Catherine Sibley, Mrs. C. L. Gordon-Cumming, and Mrs. A. Amarillo News Tells About Pioneer Days

Mr. and Mrs. Timmons Recount Early Reunions

(The following account of early reunions in Canyon appeared Tuesday in the Confederate Souvenir edition of the Amarillo Daily News. It was written by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Timmons of Amarillo.)

It was in August of 1900 or 1901 that the first Confederate reunion was held in Canyon, and for the next nine or ten years the annual meet was a time of joy to the Texas Panhandle. John T. Hutson was usually in charge of location and the meetings were on T-Anchor ground.

A small boy, youngest son of a Confederate soldier, went with his father to this first reunion held in Canyon. This boy, now a mature man, with several sons of his own, tells of this reunion.

"I've never had so much fun in my life. It was the first time I'd ever left mother, but as we jogged along all day in the wagon, we started early, but still we didn't get there until the next day. We stayed all night with some cowboys.

Reach Ground

"When we got to the reunion ground, some Canyon man met us. Father was told just where to make camp, furrows had been plowed and each soldier was assigned a certain lot. The entire site was blocked with camp lots and streets so that there was no confusion.

"All that day father was going from one camp to another talking. I just tagged along. Once I saw tears in a man's eyes as he and father shook hands. I wondered about that. We went up to a tent for supper but I was so tired I went to sleep.

Bugle Calls

"A bugle call awakened me the next morning. Father said it was the same call they always used. Each man walked out in front of his tent or wagon. Men came down the line. 'How many with you? What rations do you need?' They furnished us with everything to eat, killed bees, had bread, coffee, wood for our camp-fires, ice water, yes they had a great big tank with 500 pound chunks of ice in it.

"After breakfast, which the men cooked, some of them 'messed' together, they called it, the men cleaned their camps. Say, I know father's hand got sore that day, such hand-shaking. I saw men hug each other. Morning was spent in registering and in talking. The ladies of Canyon knew that the soldiers would not have time to cook dinner or even think about it. There was a big tent and everything good to eat—cakes, pies, peach pickles, lemonade—everything was free to the old soldiers and their families. Father got up from a table so many times to go speak to someone, that finally we had to hurry through dinner.

Johnson There

"We hurried out to the grandstand. Adam R. Johnson was there. Cheer . . . I remember yet how those men cheered Adam R. Johnson. You know it was my father that carried Adam R. Johnson off the battle-ground when his eyes were shot out. Father went up and spoke to him, didn't tell his name or anything. Adam R. Johnson recognized father at once. I could not keep from crying at that greeting, but I've always been glad I saw it.

"Captain Bobbitt was master of ceremonies. He had on his Confederate uniform. I thought it was the prettiest suit I ever saw. After the speaking, there was a rodeo. But that night was the best. As soon as supper was over we went back to the grandstand. Soldiers were already singing the old war songs. After while, Capt. Bobbitt called the roll of soldiers by states. You know, father was from Kentucky. Well, there were more Kentuckians there than from any other state. I was proud of that. I don't remember any more of the program until a quartet of Canyon singers began singing old war songs. They sang 'The Homespun Gown.' I'd heard father sing that. "Nearly all the soldiers joined in and sang the last verse.

"Then the quartet began Dixie. I said began to sing. Such cheering I never heard. It drowned the voices. The crowd went wild. Father had bought a new hat to wear to the reunion. It was the first new hat he had had in years. He stood up and threw his hat straight up. I tried to watch it as it sailed up and across by the speaker's stand. Father didn't bother about any hat, he was singing Dixie. Pretty soon I scrambled down and got his hat.

"Best of All"

"We stayed there all the next day. I've had lots of nice trips but that Confederate reunion I attended with Father was the best thing I ever saw."

Back of every successful reunion, every happy gathering are faithful committees, wise planning. Prominent among Canyon people who did the work of the reunions, headed committees, plowed furrows, cared for horses, planned entertainment, were John T. Hutson, R. G. Oldham, Judge Henson, H. E. Hume, A. E. Upfold, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Heller, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pipkin, and Mrs. John Knight.

Location Changes

The quartet that sent hats into the air was composed of Mrs. Ernberger, Prof. F. P. Wilson, O. A. Thompson, and Brother Stephens. Miss Teenie Thompson, Miss Columbia Redfern, Mrs. John Hibson often entertained with readings, as did little Miss Ruth Knight.

Location of the reunion grounds changed, different speakers appeared—John Stephens often came, Jerry Simpson, a northern soldier told of former meetings with Confederates. He spoke of Chickamauga, Shiloh, Bull Run and others, spoke of many warm receptions the Confederates had given him, declared some of them were entirely too warm.

Bring Buffalo

One year two buffalo were brought over from Goodnight for showing. Booths were arranged, under the grandstand for flowers, fancywork, canned goods. War relics were displayed. Esau, the snake eater came one year, but he absolutely refused to eat a spotted water dog. Attractions varied with the years, but always the supreme feature of the Confederate reunion was the meetings between the soldiers, the camp-fire tales, the singing of the old songs.

Mrs. Elsie Money spent a few days in Canyon this week. She returned yesterday to her ranch at Clapham near Clayton where she plans to spend the winter.

1935 Year of Plenty for U. S. Farmers, Nation-Wide Survey Reveals

Abundant crops and good prices once more bring a smile to the face of the American farmer, a recent survey reveals.

HAPPY days evidently are here again for the American farmer. A nation-wide survey of crop prospects tells a glad story of abundant crops and swelling farm incomes.

Editor & Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, recently invited U. S. farm editors to reveal the general outlook in their sections. Here, summed up, is the cheery news.

In the northeast, milk prices to farmers are 100 per cent above the depression low. In certain areas, the apple crop is 50 to 100 per cent above 1934. Poultry outlook is best in years.

Minnesota expects a 1935 cash income of more than $300,000,000. Wheat crop cut by rust 45 per cent, but hay, rye, barley, and other crops have almost doubled. Hogs were $3.50 a hundredweight in January, 1934, and $11.35 in August, 1935. For the first six months of this year, Minnesota's farm income has been $135,000,000—a 30 per cent gain.

Iowa sees a half-billion-dollar farm income—the biggest since 1930! Hog market booming; corn gains 55 per cent over 1934.

Central Illinois has a satisfactory corn crop; hay crop largest since 1927, and apples will stack up higher than since 1931.

Peaches going nicely, also grain forage, and corn, wheat, oats, and barley total bushelage is double that of 1934.

OHIO'S cherry, peach and grape yield is reported to be a bumper one. Vegetable farmers have a ready market for a good yield.

Indiana's diversified crops are way above average. An estimated half-billion farm income boosts the 1934 total 30 per cent. Michigan's peaches and apples look like a bumper crop.

Wisconsin's grain, tobacco, fruit, berries, and eggs are all better than hoped. Milk prices are excellent, with many outlets. Income of $300,000,000 compares with depression low of $189,000,000.

North Dakota reports 44 million bushels of wheat despite handicaps. Flax, rye, potatoes, sugar beets very strong. North Dakotans predict billion-dollar income. They have feed to spare, need animals to eat it.

South Dakota has 30 million bushels of durum wheat, only 2 per cent below the 10-year average. Forage crops unequaled in 25 years. Corn hat-high.

Nebraska stockmen are grinning. Beef and hogs through Omaha stockyards brought $162,000,000 this year, $150,000,000 in 1934. Machinery

Joy Riding

We were told not to tell this, but we are going to risk it. Fred Luke and Guy Hoover took one of the Keiser Bros. & Phillips grunt wagons (automobiles) out for a joy ride the other day, going down near Tulla. Everything went lovely until about forty miles from nowhere when the ——— thing, as they were called, absolutely refused to turn a wheel. They walked until they hit a railway and flagged a train for home.

Jones Explains AAA Amendments

(Excerpts from a radio address by Hon. Marvin Jones, Congressman from Texas, over stations of the National Broadcasting Company from Washington, D. C. under the auspices of the National Grange, Saturday, Aug. 17.)

The Agriculture Committee in both the House and Senate have been working for several months on legislation to strengthen the present Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The business of farming is the biggest individual business in America. The farms and ranches of America include 986,000,000 acres. The total estimated value of these lands and improvements is almost thirty-two billion dollars. This does not include the value of farm personal property and equipment, nor does it include live stock. In round numbers, there are sixty-five million cattle, twenty-six million milk cows, fifty-one million sheep and lambs, and sixty-one million hogs. We produce annually great quantities of corn, wheat, cotton, barley, rice, flax, and many other commodities.

There is no other business in this land comparable to farming either in value, volume, or number of people affected. Engaged directly on the farm and ranch in the United States are about thirty million people. Until recent years they were largely unorganized.

The farmer is the last great American individualist. Living thousands of miles apart, producing an infinite variety of crops in widely separated areas, he has been hedged about by organized groups on every side. Had there been no legislation in behalf of these groups, had there been no regulations of commerce, had there been no trade barriers and no monopolies, the farmer would have needed no legislation. If Arky Vaughan Continues at His Present Pace, the Pounding Pirate May Turn in a .400 Plus Batting Average This Season

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IT'S five years since any big leaguer has ever turned in a better than .400 annual batting average. Unless something happens to slow up Arky Vaughan, Pittsburgh Pirate sparkplug, it looks as though he'll turn the trick this year.

Setting a terrific pace for major league swatsmiths with a mace mark in the stratospheric heights above .400—distinctly unusual in this era of deflated batting averages—Arky has the throng cheering for him to keep it up.

The port-side pummeler, with his 23 years, is just out of base ball swaddling clothes, and should grace the National League panorama for many years to come.

Fullerton High School graduated him with degrees in baseball and football. Arky turned down a promising collegiate grid-iron career to seek his fortune in the national pastimes.

His minor league apprenticeship, spent with Wichita, lasted exactly one season when he rapped the apple for a .333 count to earn a trial with the Bucs the following season. His first year in Pirate regalia saw him hit for a .313 mark, which is not so bad for a freshman. The next campaign, 1933, Arky compiled enough hits to show a .314 average for the season's labor. Last year he upped this figure to a round .333. Incidentally, Vaughan has a cut-and-dried formula for mass production of bingles—perfect timing.

Aside from a baseball bat, Arky wields a wicked golf club and shoots in the 70's, which, as you probably know, puts him in a select circle in the hit-and-walk game. This business of keeping one's eye on the ball, he believes, is excellent training for the batting eye.

His biggest baseball thrill came when he pounded in a run on his initial time at bat in the big time. This major league tilt, incidentally, was the first Vaughan ever witnessed.

WHILE dwelling on the achievements of Vaughan, we might also give a few lines to Joe Vosmik, the Bombing Bohemian of the Cleveland Indians. Joe also sports a large-sized swat average and, much of the time, has been leading the American League procession.

In addition to his expertness with the willow, Joe rates as the pick of American League gardeners; he's fleet of foot, and possesses a bullet-like whip. And his teammates will tell you Joe, off the diamond, is one swell guy!

UNIFORM DRIVING LAWS ARE NEEDED

One of the greatest barriers to fair and efficient enforcement of traffic laws is the lack of uniformity in the traffic codes of different states and towns.

As one traffic authority recently pointed out, when he drives from one state to another, he doesn't have to stop and change his nickles, dimes and dollars into other and different kinds of money; but, if he wishes to operate his car in accord with the law, he must at once revise his driving habits. He leaves a state where the maximum speed allowed is 40—and then must remember that now he must hold his car down to 30. He has been accustomed to traffic lights and signs placed on corners—now they are overhead in the middle of streets where he is liable to miss seeing them entirely.

Suppose that motor car manufacturers pursued the same practices as many cities and states. Suppose a man who had been driving the Smith car wanted to trade it in for the new Jones model, and discovered that it had a different kind of transmission, required a different kind of fuel, and presented major points of difference in other respects. Such a policy would be no more absurd than is the existing policy of our governmental units in adopting traffic codes that are utterly at variance with those of a town or state 10 miles away.

The Uniform Vehicles Code and Model Municipal Ordinance, prepared by traffic experts, could and should be adopted by every town and city. This would not only give the motorist a break—it would immensely expedite the efficiency of our police and traffic patrol departments, and make an important contribution to the cause of highway safety.

Tri-State Fair To Offer Largest Show in Texas

AMARILLO, Sept. 5.—When the Tri-State Fair opens, Saturday, Sept. 14, in Amarillo it will be the largest exposition in Texas.

For several years the fair has ranked second only to the Dallas fair, which this year was postponed on account of the Texas Centennial.

Long ago the Tri-State Fair became more than its name implies. Primarily it serves the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma. But the exposition is recognized by major circuits and exhibitors are attracted from many other states.

Foremost breeders of livestock enter herds each year for Tri-State Fair prizes. Some of these herds come from Oregon, Wisconsin, Illinois and other distant states.

The Hereford show of last year was the largest in the United States.

The fair association, headed by Wilbur C. Hawk for the second consecutive year since 1931, offers and guarantees payment in full of more than $15,000 in cash premiums for exhibits.

In addition to livestock, agriculture, art and industry will have complete entries.

Each year cities in the Tri-State Fair territory send large delegations and bands to the exposition.

General admission is free and all exhibits are open to the public.

Entertainment features this year will be varied enough to suit every amusement taste.

Fairs are educational, but men, women and children go to have a good time, too, and so the fair management has made arrangements for two daily circus performances, for the largest midway attraction in the United States, for daily horse racing with legalized wagering and for many other entertainment enterprises.

The Bailey Bros. and Harley Sadler three-ring circus, purchased just recently by the well-known West Texan, will stage a mile long street parade every other day during the fair.

The Beckmann & Gerety Shows will come to Amarillo direct from Detroit for the midway engagement.

Mason King, racing director, reports more and better entries for the fall race meet, which starts Friday, Sept. 13—one day before the fair. O. L. Taylor again this year is secretary-manager of the fair. The 1935 exposition will continue to and including Saturday, Sept. 21.

Texas Livestock Shipments Show Decline in July

Texas livestock shipments declined sharply in July in comparison with the like month last year, reflecting the huge government drought relief purchases a year ago, it was pointed out this week by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and livestock expert of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Total shipments for the month were only 3,903 cars, against 8,539 cars during July last year, a decline of 54 per cent. Cattle shipments of 2,831 cars represented a decline of 47 per cent; calves, 599 cars, a decline of 41 per cent; hogs, 128 cars, a decline of 60 per cent; and sheep, 345 cars, a decline of 3 per cent. Aggregate shipments of all classes of livestock during the first seven months of the year were 33,399 cars, against 36,795 cars during the corresponding period last year.

"There are two main reasons for the wide disparity between shipments during July this year and the similar month last year," Dr. Buechel said. "First, the number of head of livestock on farms and ranches has been greatly reduced as a result of the government's livestock reduction program last summer induced by drought, and second, the remaining livestock furnishes the best medium for marketing the abundant feed and pasture which prevails throughout most of the State. The result is that this year livestock will be held on the farm and ranch as long as it is economically feasible, in order to market the maximum of this abundant grass and feed crop through a limited number of livestock and at the same time to improve the quality of the cattle as a result of the better 'finish' which adequate feeding gives."

"Farmers and ranchers, moreover, are justified in their confidence that prices of livestock will hold up well for a good many months. If present prospects for the continued upward trend of business materialize, as seems highly probable, consumer demand for meat promises to strengthen, which is the most healthful sustaining force any commodity can have. Moreover, feeders from the Middle West will bid aggressively for the Texas cattle."

The falling off in shipments of cattle in comparison with last year is greatest in those districts in which drought conditions were most severe a year ago, as might be expected.

"Shipments of cattle and calves to the Fort Worth market showed only a moderate decline in comparison with the sharp decline of Texas livestock to the other large markets. The number of sheep to the Fort Worth market increased substantially over last year. Shipments of Texas cattle to Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska are running well ahead of a year ago."

EDUCATION FOR THE FARMERS OF TOMORROW

The satisfactory solution of many agricultural problems, in the opinion of Dean Chris L. Christensen of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, will be greatly advanced by better education for farm youth.

Any sound curriculum of study must be built around social and cultural, as well as vocational interests. The young farmer must be taught nutritional chemistry, bacteriology, farm mechanics and engineering, forestry, the handling of farm insects and pests. And he must be taught, as well, the importance and methods of co-operative activity, which is the greatest social, as well as economic factor in the life of the modern American farmer.

The farmer's reliance on co-operative organizations, Dean Christensen believes, will steadily increase in the future. These organizations, when well-managed and supported, have proven their worth—they have passed the realm of theory. They have brought business technique to agriculture—and doing that, in many cases, has brought order out of chaos.

The youth of the farm is its great hope for the future—and soundly-conceived programs, designed to educate boys and girls in all the problems they will face as time passes, will immeasurably brighten the long-pull outlook for agriculture.

Road Runners Are Still in the Lead

Have Won 11, Lost Only 3 Games in Tournament

It looks like the Road Runners have the Softball League ticket in their pocket this week with a record of eleven wins and 3 losses. Only one game remains to be played, one tonight between the Road Runners and the Outlaws, who are placing second in the league with nine victories and 5 losses.

In last Thursday's game the Road Runners lost to the Phillips team, 4 to 6, and the following night defeated the Business Men 13 to 7. The Outlaws defeated the Phillips team 15 to 10 the same evening.

Tuesday evening the Business Men won over the Outlaws with a score of 9 to 5.

The game tonight closes the season's tournament.

ADVICE TO HUSBANDS

Don't kick because you have to button your wife's dress. Be glad your wife has a dress, and doubly glad you have a wife to button a dress for. Some men's wives have no dresses to button. Some men's wives' dresses have no buttons on to button up. Some men's wives' dresses which have buttons on to button don't care a button whether they are buttoned or not. Some men don't have any wives with buttons on to button. You wouldn't like to live in a buttonless world, now would you?
